The PGA Tour versus LIV Golf

In 2022 LIV Golf Investments launched its 8 event 255-million-dollar invitational series of golf tournaments beginning in June in England. It was the culmination of a multi-year long process by Greg Norman to start a new professional premier world golf tour, fueled by the deep pockets of Saudi Arabia's Peoples Investment Fund. The format of 12 four player teams, playing 54-hole tournaments with live music and looser regulations on dress codes and a much more relaxed shotgun starts., just didn't fully catch on with fans. After 4 years of events, and Saudi's shelling out 5 billion to 8 billion in financial support, PIF has announced funding will be discontinued by years end. Where this leaves the LIV Tour is a difficult question, but finding a financial backer for the tour will be very difficult. It has never garnished the audience and metrics that was expected or generate income targets projected.

There is a distinct difference between growing the game of golf worldwide and creating another golf tour that removes the best player in the game from the greatest show in golf, The PGA Tour. The goal of every professional golfer in the world is to play on the PGA Tour and compete alongside the very best players in golf. It is by far one of the most difficult challenges in all of sports, and one of the only professional sports careers that comes with no tenure or guarantee of earnings. Yet it is clearly the pinnacle for every professional golfer in the game today. I am not sure what will happen to LIV Golf but seeing all the best in the game back on the PGA Tour would be better for golf, the fans, and all the opportunities the Tour offers for professional golfers in the game.

PXG: AN EXCEPTIONAL CLUB FITTING EXPERIENCE IN BOSTON

Nothing Is Faster Than Lightning

By Greg Sampson

If you are in the market for the perfect pairing of power and precision, PXG Lightning is for you.

I recently had the opportunity to go through a complete custom fitting for a PXG Lightning driver along with fairway woods, and a hybrid at the PXG Boston location. I can confidently say it was one of the best golf equipment experiences I have ever had. The professionalism throughout the fitting top notch and the results, near perfect. My ball flight and distance gaps are now exactly what I need to take my game to new levels!

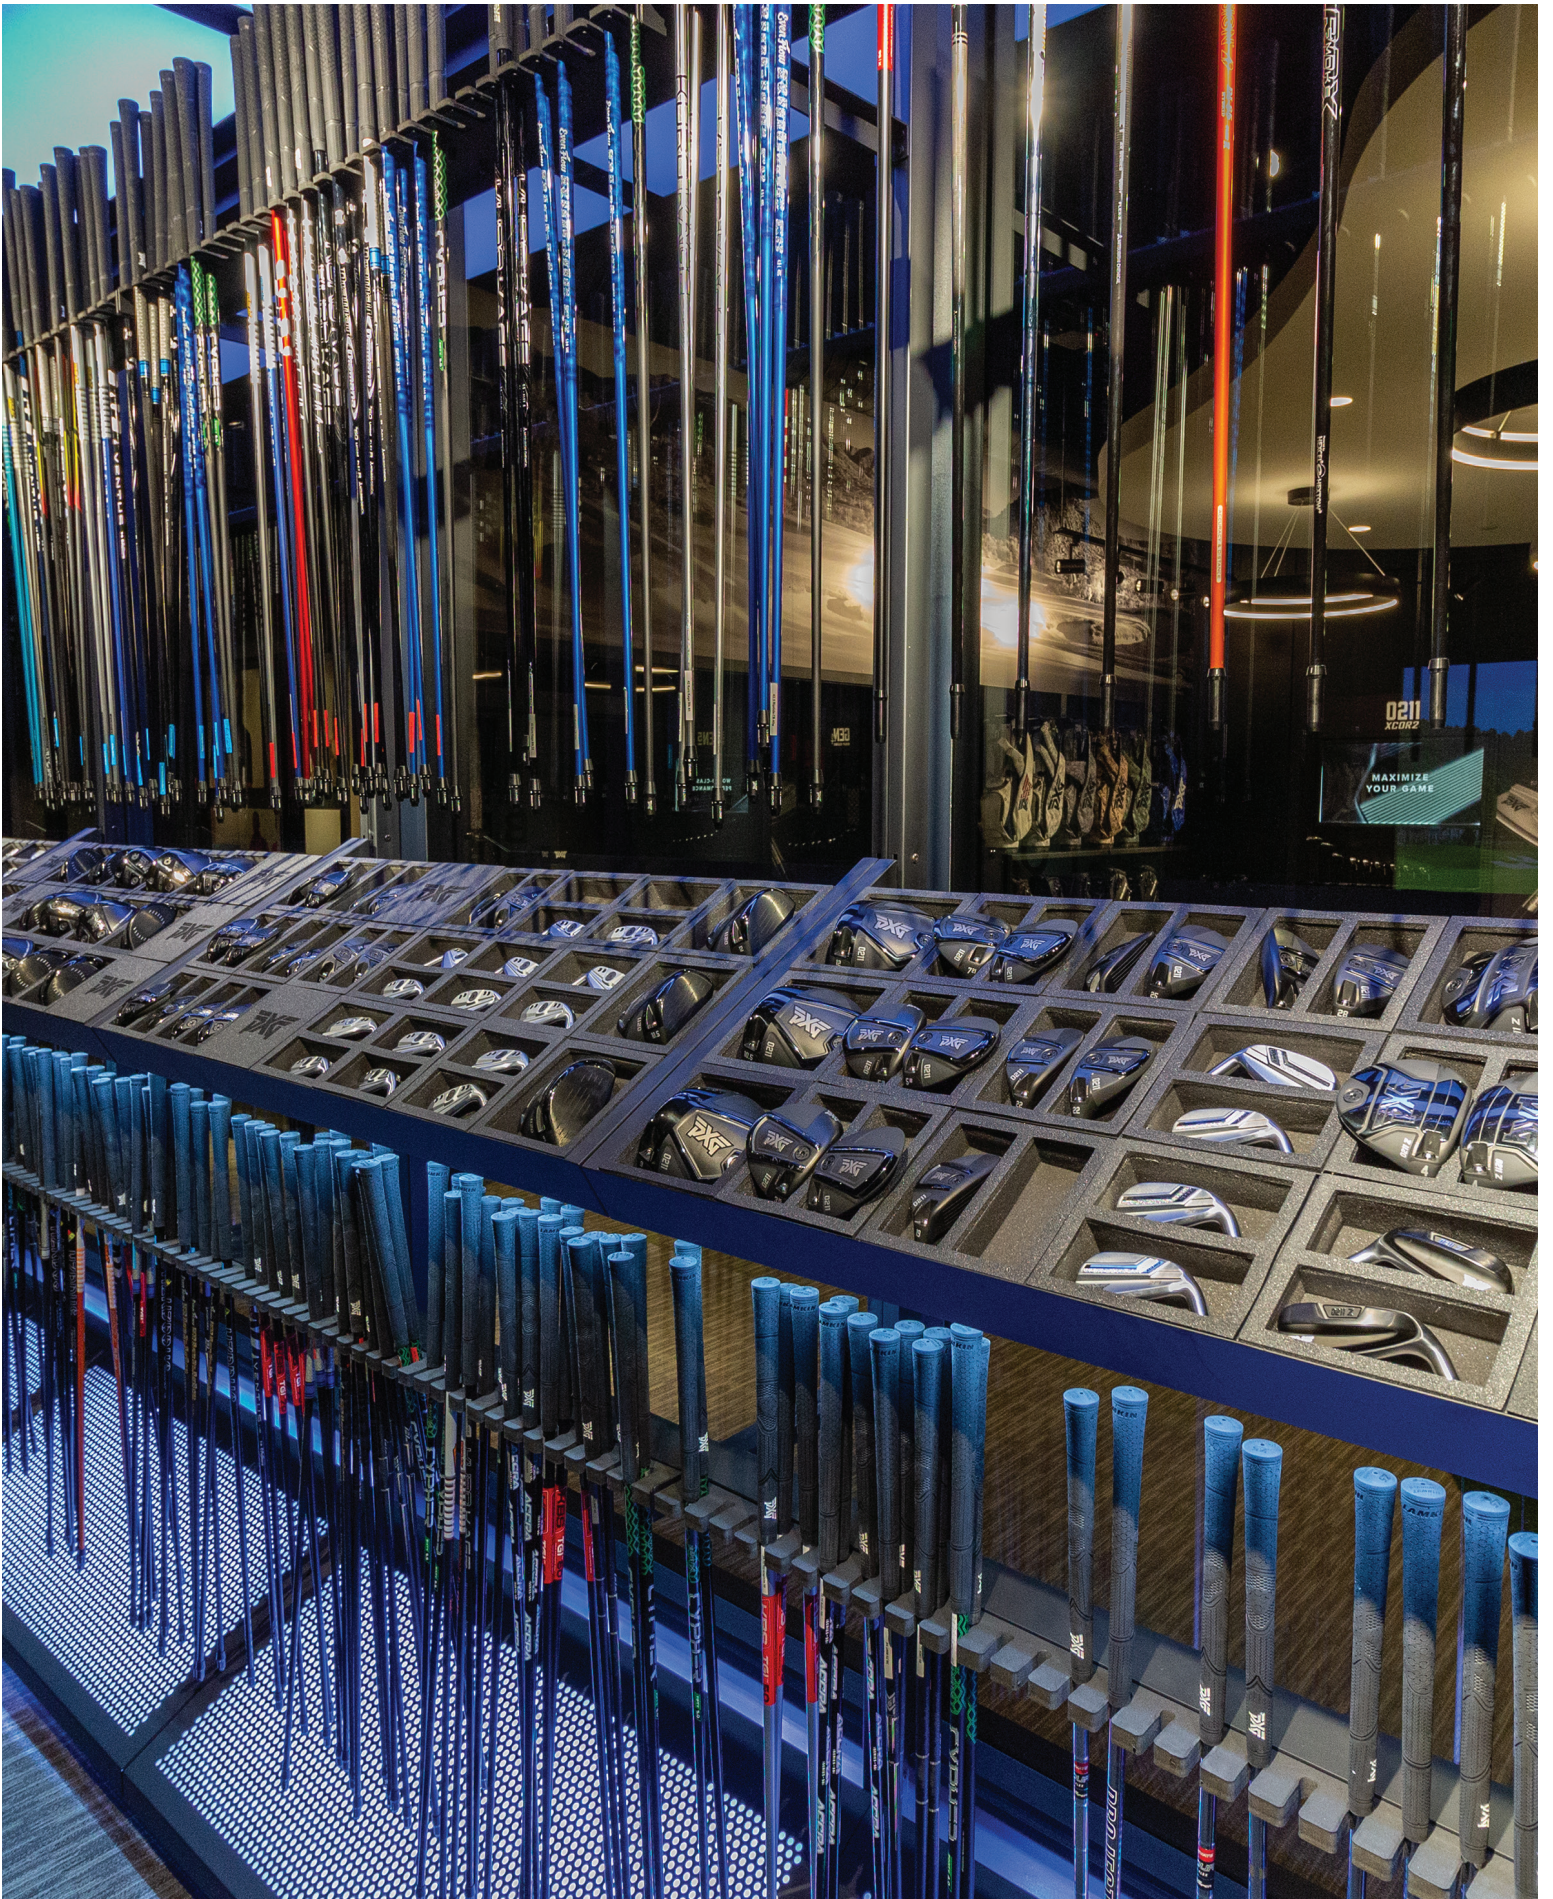

Another aspect worth highlighting is the quality of PXG's craftsmanship. The attention to detail in the driver, fairway woods, and hybrids of the new Lightnings were immediately apparent. The clubs look exceptional at address, and every component feels tour quality. The combination of aesthetics, technology, and performance creates a product that genuinely stands out to any player in the game through different head models and almost unlimited shaft options. Don't just take my word for it, go read and watch the many positive reviews from the likes of MyGolfSpy, Plugged in Golf and more.

Since receiving my custom-fit clubs, the benefits have become even more evident on the course. My driving distance has improved, my fairway-finding percentage has increased, and my confidence with long approach shots has grown significantly. The improved gapping in the top of my bag has also helped me execute shots more effectively.

For any golfer considering a club fitting, I highly recommend scheduling an appointment at the PXG Boston or a location near you. An added benefit of getting fit in a store location is that you can shop all the latest PXG Apparel and Accessories on-site. Whether you are a low-handicap player seeking maximum performance or a recreational golfer looking for greater consistency and forgiveness, the PXG Lightning Lineup will not disappoint.

For more information, to schedule a fitting and/or shop online visit www.pgx.com or call 844.PLAY.PXG.

PXG Lightning Driver

Powered by Frequency Tuned Face Technology, a Spined Sole, precision weighting, and fitting-driven adjustability to unleash explosive speed and distance.

Player Preference: Ideal for golfers who prioritize distance and want the ability to dial in launch, spin, and ball flight through fitting-driven adjustability.

My Impression: Having the ability to test combinations of the four different heads with multiple shafts was the selling point for me. I ultimately went with the Tour Mid 9 degree head with a MCA Diamana S+ 60 gram shaft at 45 inches. The sound and look of the head gave me more confidence to let it fly and my launch/spin rates were optimal giving me over 5 yards gained in average carry distance. I am already noticing the advantages off the tee!

The PXG Lightning Drivers start at $649. For more information, to schedule a fitting and/or shop online visit www.pgx.com or call 844.PLAY.PXG.

PXG Lightning Fairway Wood

PXG Lightning Fairway Woods combine optimized weighting, fast face technology, and confident turf interaction to deliver high launch, ball speed, and versatile performance.

Player Preference: Ideal for golfers who want a versatile fairway wood that launches easily and performs confidently from a variety of lies.

My Impression: The goal I had going into the fitting was to launch the ball at a higher flatter trajectory and gap out the top of my bag in order to add my 5 iron back into play. This was achieved quickly with a weaker lofted 3 metal and a stronger lofted 7 metal, both in the Lightning head instead of the Tour head. I now have two fairway finders, par five getters and long par 3 gamers I can trust thanks to PXG!

PXG Lightning Hybrid

PXG Lightning Hybrid blends optimized weighting, fast face design, and easy launch technology to deliver more stability, speed, and control in the long game.

Player Preference: Best for golfers seeking an easier-to-hit alternative to long irons with added forgiveness, launch, and long-game consistency.

My Impression: The carbon fiber crown and square head design provides me the look I was searching for. I find the playability to be excellent allowing me to hit a variety of shots based on lie and wind conditions with the distance control of an iron. Just like the rest of the line-up, the sound is pure!

The PXG Lightning Fairways start at $379 and the hybrids at $329. For more information, to schedule a fitting and/or shop online visit www.pxg.com or call 844.PLAY.PXG.

BAY HILL CLUB & LODGE

You're Invited to the Home of the Arnold Palmer Invitational

The PGA TOUR Signature event venues that you can play, continue to be the most sought-after destinations for memorable golf experiences for golfers around the globe. Each year Arnold Palmer's Bay Hill Club & Lodge hosts the Arnold Palmer Invitational, welcoming the top players in the world to compete for one of golf's most coveted championships. For PGA TOUR players who made the walk off the 18th hole in victory it becomes the most memorable moment of their career. The Arnold Palmer Invitational at Bay Hill will live on as one of the most iconic yearly events in golf because of the legacy and his amazing creation at Bay Hill Club & Lodge, as it has for nearly 50 years.

In 1965, after visiting Bay Hill for the first time, Arnold Palmer called his wife Winnie and declared, "Babe, I've just played the best golf course in Florida, and I want to own it." By the early 1970s he did, and Bay Hill became the Palmers' winter home. Over the next half century, Palmer shaped the course and Lodge into one of golf's most storied destinations, beloved by pros who come for the tournament and by the members and Lodge guests who enjoy Bay Hill's unpretentious hospitality. Visit and discover for yourself why so many consider Bay Hill to be a home away from home—and, as Palmer called it, "a golfer's paradise."

Built by a legend to be enjoyed by all, Bay Hill offers golf travelers one of the most unique and memorable experiences in golf. Today, that includes newly renovated Lodge rooms and a reimagined Bay Window restaurant, among other improvements. Many of the refreshed rooms and suites are tastefully decorated with Palmer photos and memorabilia, sure to inspire guests. There are newly appointed king and dual queen rooms, suites and junior suites, and six waterside guest cottages to accommodate groups of businessmen, friends, families or anyone who likes the conveniences of a home away from home. Easily accessed via Orlando's international airport, and near to some of the world's best theme parks, Bay Hill remains, as Palmer put it, "an oasis of calm in the midst of it all." That's largely thanks to the staff, who work to ensure that guests' time here is as memorable and as comfortable as possible, just as Palmer expected.

27 HOLES OF CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF

A 65-room lodge and 6 guest cottages, featuring amenities like upgraded, flat-screen TVs, patios, and decor from the Arnold Palmer collection. Three on-site dining venues including the Grill & Classic Rooms, the Bay Window (overlooking the putting green), and the Poolside Café. Two Bar's are also available (Bay Window and Member's Lounge). The Bay Hill Club is also home to The Arnold Palmer Golf Academy and one of the games finest practice facilities.

The Tryall Golf & Beach Club in Jamaica

BY DANNY AND ALICE SCOTT

The Destination

Caribbean splendor is on full display on the island of Jamaica. In Montego Bay, turquoise blue waters frame an idyllic setting for seaside golf. Any vegetation deprivation is cured as hillside jungles burst with exotic foliage, and vibrant flowers.

Jamaica is a spicy island with pimento (allspice) and scotch bonnet peppers, the key ingredients in the iconic jerk seasoning. Homegrown nutmeg and cinnamon enhance fresh unadulterated seafood, vegetables and tropical fruits. You taste Jamaica, and drink it in. Blue Mountain coffee wakes you up and later, Jamaican rum blends, or a mocktail of June plum, cherry, and ginger, or Green Ginger Wine make a healthy happy hour. Coconut water, sipped straight from the shell, naturally hydrates and boosts the circulatory system.

Beginning in the 1600's, successive invasions by the British, Spanish, French, and even pirates helped shape the island's culture, architecture, and language. Jamaica became a post war promised land for German settlers and later attracted communities from Lebanon, China and more, spurring the motto "Out of Many, One People."

While English is the official language, a distinct Jamaican patois prevails. Blending elements of African languages with others, it began as a way for enslaved people to communicate discreetly and evolved into a defining cultural expression. The history of struggle and resilience helped inspire the music of Bob Marley and the enduring message of "One Love." Today the rhythm of reggae permeates daily life, reflecting a spirit of peace and respect. The genuine warmth and easygoing contentment is contagious.

The Venue

Set along Jamaica's north coast, The Tryall Club is classically Jamaican, quietly exclusive, and naturally beautiful. General Manager Kenton Jones and his wife, Spa Director Leesa Jones, arrived after two decades at Richard Branson's Necker Island, bringing with them a polished yet personal approach to hospitality. Kenton's journey from kite-surfing instructor to GM, shows in the resort's relaxed ambience, while Leesa's calming presence shapes a spa culture rooted in genuine wellness. In the wake of last fall's hurricane, owners, guests, and staff alike credit Kenton's leadership and a tightly knit team for an impressively swift recovery and reopening. It is an embodiment of "Out of Many, One People."

Tryall is not a hotel resort but offers over 70 exquisite villas in a rental pool, each with their own distinguished style and features, all with glorious views of the Caribbean. The one-to-ten-bedroom options include "everything service" by a staff who feel like family, including chefs, butlers, housekeepers, laundresses, and gardeners.

Sheldon and his smiling staff welcomed our group to the luxurious six-bedroom Sea Glass Villa with cool towels, a refreshing drink, and orientation. Fresh flowers and linen origami add a personal flair. Every bedroom, great room, and expansive pool deck faces the sea. The master suite sits front and center with a king bed view of the tropical forest, the 14th fairway, and the deep blue beyond. At night, a chorus of Coqui tree frogs provide a soft lullaby, giving way to a birdsong at dawn. Mornings invite a dip in the private pool, a soak in the hot tub, or a hike along trails before a round of golf. Six-seater carts whisk you across the 2,200-acre property. More than a resort, Tryall is a generational destination, where today's owners introduce grandkids to caddies they themselves knew as children. For adult time, a kids club is optionally available.

The Golf

Originally designed by Ralph Plummer and later refined, Tryall has hosted top-tier international tournaments like Johnnie Walker. The iconic seventh hole steals the spotlight with its historic dramatic stone aqueduct and water wheel from an 18th-century sugar mill, but the Tryall course reveals far more. The ocean is a near-constant companion beginning with the third hole running along the shoreline with a lone cannon pointing out to sea, a reminder of Jamaica's layered past. The ninth sweeps from hill to valley to hill with the Caribbean stretching out to the left. Rather than a standard hot dog at the turn, grab a flaky patty —Jamaica's version of the empanada with spiced beef or chicken tucked into a golden pastry. Wash it down with a citrusy Ting or an icy-cold Red Stripe beer. Fortified, you'll be ready to stripe your next drive down the fairway. Near the 12th tee is the enormous pulpit tree, a 300-year-old Ceiba, where during the plantation era, slaves sat upon the mighty roots to hear the preacher speaking from inside the cavernous trunk fold.

Fun-loving Jamaican caddies make the round as memorable as the layout itself, from Bunny's singing, joking and tips, to Linton's good reads on the green. It's this blend of local character and deep course knowledge that elevates every round.

A long-tailed hummingbird gripping a golf club serves as the logo, adorning lots of merch in the pro shop. Donning it on your body or bag almost guarantees a birdie on the card.

And More

The warm ocean invites swimmers or snorkelers, best guided by Akeem to learn about local species like the scorpion fish. Complimentary non-motorized watersports and glass bottom boat tour are included with motorized options available. The concierge will happily book outside excursions to waterfalls, rafting, or to the Rastafarian center. But it's hard to leave your private villa other than to golf, beach or spa. Leesa's Livity Spa has its own pool and creative therapies including sound meditation — a unique prelude for a massage using local products resulting in skin so soft, muscles soothed. Say aaaah.

Our Takeaway

What a restorative experience! The cuisine, the views, and the service were over the top, truly incomparable. No pressure, no problems, ya mon! Once you go, you know you must return. Stay & Play packages from $1900 per person are found at tryallclub.com

The Journey

Fly direct or connect from major US cities on your airline of choice. As Kenton says, "It's like being on the other side of the world, but only a half hour from Florida."

The Undiscovered Golf Gem of Canada

New Brunswick called the “Picture Province” or “Canada’s Undiscovered Gem”, is celebrated for its dramatic Bay of Fundy tides, breathtaking scenery and welcoming charm. The region blends English and French Acadian cultures, offering visitors a rich tapestry of traditions, languages, and cuisines. This cultural diversity is evident in the province’s festivals, architecture, and daily life. It is also home to some of Atlantic Canada’s most pristine golf courses and clubs. New Brunswick is predominantly hilly, as the province sits entirely within the Appalachian Mountain range, characterized by rolling plateaus, deeply carved river valleys, and dense, forested highlands. With over 50 golf courses in the province and some of the most spectacular seaside links, riverside courses, and picturesque upland and highland courses, there is much to choose from. For easy access from the states there are 17 border crossing points from Maine alone. New Brunswick is a small province, so it’s easy to get from one course to another.

A PGA Tour Stop for Atlantic Canada

New Brunswick is now home to the PGA of America’s Explore NB Open, played at Mactaquac Provincial Park Golf Course, in Mactaquac, near the provincial capital city of Fredericton. The Explore NB Open is the first PGA Tour sanctioned event in the Canadian Maritimes. The Open brings PGA of America’s competition to the heart of New Brunswick, along the Saint John River for a celebration of golf and life in the province. A weeklong events calendar, July 6th through the 12th, offers a great opportunity to see the region, play memorable golf, and follow some of your favorite players on the PGA America’s Tour. The tournament provides corporate sponsorships with exclusive packages, and a Pro-Am on July 8th to play alongside professional golfers. Reach out to Explore NB Open for information.

The Algonquin Golf Course

St. Andrews-by-the-Sea is considered a premier coastal “Pebble Beach-style” destination in Atlantic Canada due to its dramatic ocean-side setting. While not officially branded as such, it is heavily favored for its stunning views of Passamaquoddy Bay and a layout that runs directly along the water. The Algonquin Golf Course is one of Canada’s oldest and most scenic resort courses. Established originally as a 9-hole layout in 1894, it has been re-shaped by legendary golf architects over the last century. Algonquin now shines brighter than ever and has numerous accolades including, “Golf Digest Editor’s Choice Award,” listed in Canada’s Best Golf Resorts in 2021 and 2022.

Covered Bridge Golf & Country Club

Covered Bridge is in Hartland, a small, picturesque town along the St. John River, in the western part of New Brunswick. It is home to the Hartland Covered Bridge, the world’s longest covered bridge, spanning 1282 feet across the St. John River. This Championship 18-hole course was designed by John F. Robinson who is the younger brother of Bill Robinson, one of Canada’s best-known golf architects. While not a long course, a slope of 130+ makes it very challenging.

Gowan Brae Golf & Country Club

Gowan Bay is in Bathurst Harbour along the Bay of Chaleur. The course was designed by C.E. (Robbie) Robinson, who was well known as one of the top golf course architracts in Canada. By 1962 the course was open for 18 holes of play and became one of the most demanding courses in Atlantic Canada. Constructed along the windy shores of the Bathurst Harbour on the Bay of Chaleur, Gowan Brae Golf and Country Club has developed into one of the most beautiful, picturesque courses in Canada.

Royal Oaks Golf Club

Royal Oaks, in Moncton is one of only two golf courses in Canada designed by Rees Jones, son of Robert Trent Jones. Moncton, New Brunswick, perfectly balances maritime charm with a highly regarded golf scene. This vibrant "Hub City" features a mix of classic tree-lined tracks, dramatic championship layouts, and accessible resort-style courses that cater to all skill levels. Moncton lies in the middle of the Maritime Provinces and is nicknamed "hub city" because of its central location. Royal Oaks is frequently ranked in "Canada's Top 100 Courses" and is one of the most beautiful public courses in New Brunswick. It is only 10 minutes from Moncton International Airport and minutes from downtown Moncton.

Aroostook Valley Country Club

The town of Four Falls winds along the U.S. border of Maine. You can tee off on holes #1 (The International), #2 (The Grove) or #9 (Old Ironsides) and literally hit it "out of the country." These holes are close enough to the international boundary that a sliced or hooked shot can cross into the U.S. You're not allowed to go get your ball because you would be illegally entering the U.S. The course is carved into a high elevation hillside overlooking the river valley, offering beautiful views of cedars, hardwoods, and the international boundary markers. www.avcc.ca/home.htm

Anatomy of a Buddy Trip

The Comeback at Cranberry Valley

BY SEAN MELIA

Joe Murphy stood over a twelve-foot birdie putt on the 18th green at Cranberry Valley, the kind of putt you spend a whole weekend trying to earn. His team had been buried 7-1 the day before. The only way to keep the Murphy Cup was to sweep the singles matches on Sunday. They were almost there, doing what the USA couldn't do to Europe at Bethpage Black: overwhelm the opponent and mount a rousing comeback.

Owen Quinn, the rival captain, had just hit a shot on the double dogleg 18th at Cranberry Valley that seemed to stymie Team Murphy's comeback. Quinn hit a 7-iron from the trees, up over the tree line, onto the par-5 green in two, looking at eagle.

However, with all the pressure mounting, Murphy rolled in his birdie putt to cap the comeback.

That was last summer's Murphy Invitational, the fifth edition of a twelve-man buddy trip on Cape Cod that started as an excuse to play 36 holes and a backyard home-run derby, and has now grown big enough to attract Breezy Golf and Bob Does Sports, who came to Cranberry Valley in Harwich to film a three-episode documentary on the whole weekend.

The format is its own kind of fun. Two captains draft Ryder-Cup style. Day one is a scramble on the front and alternate shot on the back. Day two is six singles matches. Each session is worth 8 points. The captains' head-to-head match is worth two points, and so is one random match, which is selected with a spin of a wheel. As an added twist, the team that loses the day 1 session votes one of its own to spend the night in a tent. This year, Matty Fran drew the short straw. A home-run derby tied to a fundraiser for the group's high school friend Mike Sullivan, in the middle of a cancer fight, raised $2,400 in an afternoon.

Oftentimes, the golf trip idea never escapes the group chat. With popular destinations getting more expensive and some, like Bandon Dunes, requiring a lottery to book lodging, creativity is at a premium. There are plenty of great places to travel to play golf, and Cape Cod is certainly one of those places. It's rife with golf of various kinds, from mini-golf to executive courses to championship challenges.

For Billy Moulton, what elevated this particular golf trip was the venue.

"We've played a lot of courses, and Cranberry Valley delivered in a big way," said Billy Moulton, the event organizer. "The Director of golf, Roman Greer and his team had everything handled. From the jump, it felt organized, smooth, and easy for our entire group."

Joe Murphy echoed it. "Anytime we needed something, Roman and his staff were there. It never felt like we were just another outing."

The course held up its end of the bargain. The par-5 18th gave the weekend its closing drama. A long, sweeping par-5 the boys called "a big-boy hole" decided more than one match. Tree corridors and doglegs rewarded bombers and grinders alike. In between, the breakfast sandwich and the Italian sausage at the turn earned their own screen time.

The Cape did the rest. "Between the restaurants, bars, beaches, and everything else in the area, it makes for a great overall trip both on and off the course," Murphy said.

He's already planning to come back. "We'd absolutely recommend Cranberry Valley to anyone looking to put together a buddy trip or Ryder Cup-style event."

For now, the Murphy Cup is staying in the Murphy household. But somewhere out there is a group of friends with their own version of this weekend bouncing around in the text chain. Cranberry Valley's door is open.

Meet MyGolfSpy's Back-to-Back Best Overall Golf Cart

Cybercart was named MyGolfSpy's "Best Overall" electric golf push cart in both 2026 and 2025, giving it strong third-party validation from one of golf's most trusted independent testing sources. Minimal setup required and its compact folded size makes it easy to store."

Cybercart is a remote-controlled electric golf push cart designed to carry your golf bag for you while you walk the course. Built with a super stable three-wheel design, compact folding frame, rechargeable battery, and intuitive remote-control operation, Cybercart is made to be easy to use from the first round. Minimal setup means you can unfold it, secure your bag, power it on, and start walking. Its 6-axis gyroscope helps keep the cart moving straight on uneven side slopes, while adjustable speed lets you match your natural walking pace.

For golfers who want the health benefits of walking without the fatigue of pushing or carrying, Cybercart works like a reliable on-course assistant: it carries your clubs, moves at your pace, reduces physical strain, and helps you stay fresher through the final holes.

Scott Golf's Commitment to Pure Performance

In an era when golf equipment often revolves around marketing buzzwords, ever-changing technology claims, and overwhelming jargon, Scott Golf has taken a different path rather than chasing trends. For 26 years, the independent manufacturer has built its reputation on craftsmanship, precision engineering, and a commitment to creating great clubs that prioritize feel and performance, with legacy quality above all else.

Known for their irons, wedges, and blades, at the heart of their lineup are the SG-02 and SG-04 irons, which exemplify their philosophy to build better clubs, not bigger hype. Unlike most modern irons that incorporate multiple materials, inserts, or internal fillers, Scott Golf's irons are forged from 100% one-piece forged metal construction, S20c to deliver the responsive feedback and consistency that accomplished golfers value.

Every Scott Golf iron begins its life in-house, where the company handles both design and prototyping. This hands-on approach allows Scott Golf to maintain complete control over the development process while ensuring each model meets exacting standards before reaching players.

The SG-02 is designed for accomplished players who prioritize accuracy, feel, shot-making and control. Featuring a compact profile and traditional players' iron shaping, the SG-02 offers workability without sacrificing consistency. The clean profile at address inspires confidence, while carefully engineered specifications promote consistent ball striking and reliable distance control. Progressive lofts ranging from 23 degrees in the 4-iron to 46 degrees in the pitching wedge create predictable distance gaps, while reduced offset throughout the set promotes a clean look at address and enhanced shot control.

For golfers seeking additional forgiveness while maintaining the feel of a forged iron, the SG-04 provides a more forgiving alternative. The SG-04 was engineered with a slightly larger profile and an expanded sweet spot, helping maintain ball speed and stability on off-center strikes. The result is an iron that blends the responsiveness of a forged players' club with the confidence and playability typically associated with game-improvement designs. According to Scott Golf, the sweet spot is approximately the size of a half dollar, providing greater forgiveness without sacrificing feel.

The SG-02 and SG-04 stand apart in a crowded marketplace and are admired by golfers who appreciate craftsmanship as much as performance. These are forged irons built for golfers who value precision, feel, and authenticity over the latest marketing gimmick. Both the SG-02 and SG-04 provide carefully tuned lie angles, bounce configurations, and progressive specifications that are designed to improve turf interaction and shot consistency. Golfers can further personalize their sets through a wide range of shaft, flex, grip, and length options.

WHERE CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF

Experience resort-style living and a vibrant social lifestyle at Astor Creek Golf & Country Club

On Florida's Treasure Coast, where year-round sunshine and coastal breezes create ideal playing conditions, one community is redefining country club living. Astor Creek Golf & Country Club in Port St. Lucie brings together world-class golf, luxury estate homes, and a fully realized resort lifestyle, setting a new standard for new communities.

A Course Designed to Inspire

Designed by renowned architect Chris Wilczynski, Astor Creek's 18-hole championship layout offers a thoughtful and engaging experience for players of all skill levels. Rolling fairways, strategic bunkering, and immaculate greens create a course that rewards both precision and creativity. Five sets of tees allow every round to feel enjoyable, whether you're a competitive player seeking a challenge or someone who simply loves being outdoors with friends.

The practice facilities are equally impressive. A 15-acre driving range, expansive 15,000-square-foot putting green, and dedicated short-game area provide the kind of training environment typically reserved for established private clubs. For serious golfers, it is a rare opportunity to sharpen every aspect of the game just steps from home.

What makes Astor Creek especially compelling is that golf is not an add-on—it is woven into everyday life. Every new home purchase includes a full golf membership, giving residents immediate access to the course and practice facilities.

A Clubhouse That Brings the Community Together

Yet even devoted golfers quickly discover that Astor Creek offers much more than exceptional play.

The elegant 25,000-square-foot clubhouse has become the social heart of the community. Positioned to capture sweeping views of the course and surrounding landscape, it is where neighbors gather for morning coffee, post-round lunches, evening cocktails, and memorable celebrations.

Inside, residents enjoy a full-service restaurant and bar, inviting coffee lounge, billiards room, and beautifully designed spaces that make it easy to connect with neighbors. The atmosphere is refined yet relaxed—upscale enough for special occasions, comfortable enough for everyday use.

Wellness, Recreation, and Resort-Style Amenities

Wellness is equally central to the lifestyle. The state-of-the-art fitness center features innovative EGYM smart equipment that personalizes workouts and tracks progress automatically. Group fitness classes and wellness programming make staying active both convenient and enjoyable.

Outdoors, the resort-style pool offers a beach-entry design, lap lanes, shaded cabanas, and tropical landscaping that create the feeling of a private retreat. Residents can spend afternoons relaxing poolside or joining neighbors for social events organized by the community's dedicated lifestyle director.

Beyond golf and the clubhouse, Astor Creek provides a wide range of recreational amenities, including pickleball, tennis, basketball, bocce, and scenic walking trails. Whether your idea of a perfect day includes a morning round, a fitness class, or sunset drinks with friends, the opportunities for activity and connection are always close at hand.

Luxury Homes Tailored to Your Lifestyle

The homes themselves are every bit as impressive as the amenities. Elegant estate residences by Kolter Homes feature open-concept floorplans, soaring ceilings, chef-inspired kitchens, luxurious primary suites, and up to approximately 5,000 a/c sq. ft.

Set on spacious homesites, many offer golf course or water views, along with privacy and expansive indoor-outdoor living spaces designed for Florida living.

Through the Kolter Homes Design Studio, buyers can personalize their homes with a wide variety of structural options and hundreds of finishes to create a retreat that feels distinctly their own.

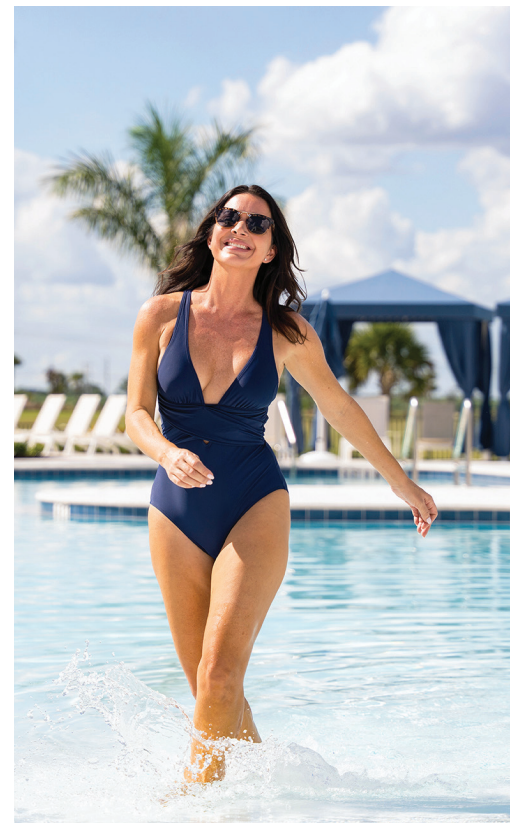

Taylor Morrison also joins the community, adding more floorplans ranging from two to six bedrooms. Together, the builders provide an exceptional selection for everyone from avid golfers seeking a seasonal retreat to families and retirees looking for a full-time residence.

Perfectly Positioned on the Treasure Coast

Location is another significant advantage. Situated in the rapidly growing western area of Port St. Lucie, Astor Creek offers convenient access to Tradition Square, shopping, dining, healthcare, and Interstate 95. Atlantic beaches, marinas, and all the natural beauty of the Treasure Coast are just a short drive away.

Astor Creek represents something increasingly rare: a brand-new golf and country club community where the course is outstanding, the amenities are complete, and the lifestyle is already fully realized.

REMAX Launches New Program to Connect Agents with Golf-Focused Buyers and Sellers

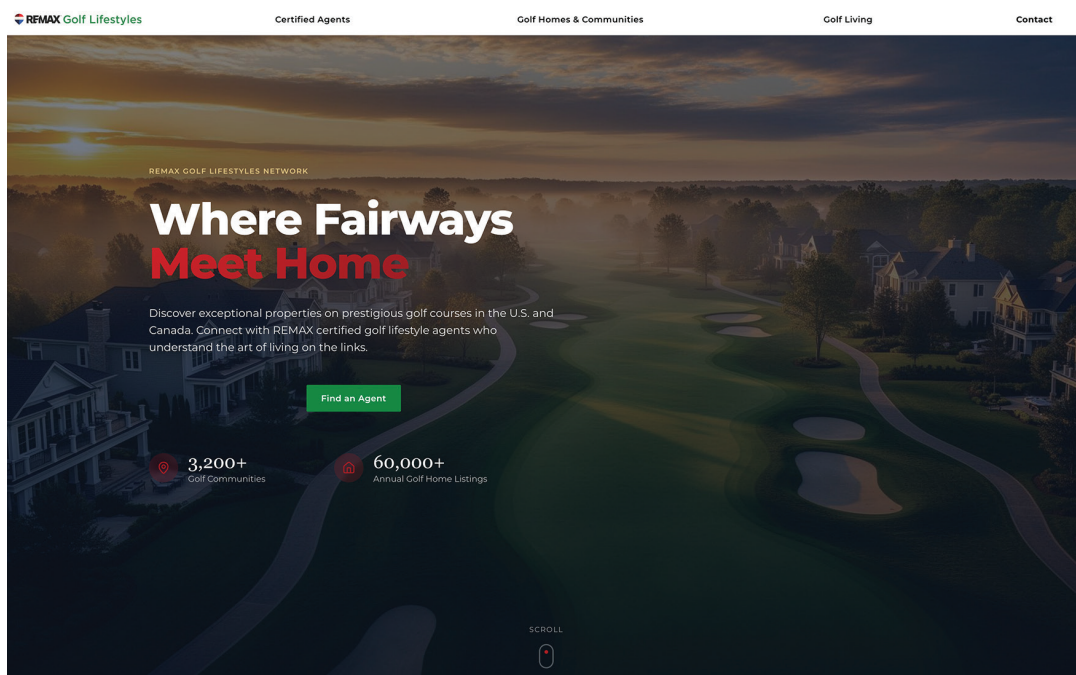

REMAX®, the No. 1 name in real estate, recently announced the launch of REMAX Golf Lifestyles and we couldn't be more excited about it for our readers, subscribers and golf show attendees. This is a first-of-its-kind program designed to help agents become experts in golf community living to better serve buyers and sellers interested in the golf lifestyle.

REMAX Golf Lifestyles is built on the foundation of Golf Life Navigators, an established platform that has already connected thousands of golf-focused buyers and sellers with communities that match their lifestyle preferences. REMAX recently acquired Golf Life Navigators, combining its specialized expertise with the global scale and reach of the REMAX network.

"Consumers are increasingly choosing a home based on how they want to live, not just where they want to live. Golf real estate is a clear example of that shift," said Chris Lim, REMAX President and Chief Growth Officer. "REMAX Golf Lifestyles provides education to agents, so they understand this in-demand lifestyle. At the same, buyers and sellers are connected with real estate experts who know the ins and outs of golf communities."

Consumers will be able to search for REMAX Golf Lifestyles-certified agents through the REMAX Golf Lifestyles website and the Golf Life Navigator website, making it easier to find an agent who understands golf community living from club culture to long-term resale value.

"Golf-focused buyers can look for a lot of different things when considering a new community such as number of courses, maintenance schedule, types of restaurants, and other social activities," said Jason Becker, REMAX Vice President of Lifestyles, Co-Founder of Golf Life Navigators and PGA of America Golf Professional. "Now when they find the right community, they can also find a certified REMAX Golf Lifestyles agent to help them make their dream a reality."

Agents can become certified real estate professionals specializing in golf community living by completing the REMAX Golf Lifestyles Agent Certification through REMAX University® and activating an annual membership. The REMAX Golf Lifestyles membership includes:

- Education on golf courses and their operations
- Knowledge of different golf clubs and communities
- Connections to buyers and sellers already interested in golf course living

A professional certificate verifying expertise for clients REMAX Golf Lifestyles is available to REMAX affiliates in the United States and Canada (excluding Quebec). Interested agents can learn more at www.remax.com/usa/en/lifestyles/golf. Consumers can visit www.golflifenavigators.com now to explore communities that match their lifestyle and find a certified REMAX agent.

WELCOME TO OWL'S NEST RESORT

Your Home to White Mountain Vacations & Living

Owl's Nest Resort and Residences is nestled in a pristine valley at the southern edge of the Mount Washington National Forest, along the Pemigewasset River, just south of Waterville Valley. This expansive forest is the fourth-largest mountainous national forest in the United States, encompassing over 800,000 acres and spanning 48 mountains and peaks, including the iconic Presidential Range.

Each year, more than six million visitors are drawn to the White Mountains to experience four seasons of outdoor adventure in this breathtaking and treasured region. There is an unmistakable sense of quiet that settles over you here—a peaceful hush that captivates all who visit, and a feeling that calls you back year after year.

The spring/summer season has begun at Owl's Nest Resort in Thornton, New Hampshire. Experience the beauty and ambiance of the magnificent White Mountain National Forest at New England's favorite destination for every season.

"Mountains are a place to find 'lost truths of life' and contemplate 'great mysteries of existence.'"

Henry David Thoreau, after a trip to the White Mountains

Owl's Nest is the Northeast's premier resort, set in one of New England's most picturesque locations. Here, you'll find unparalleled accommodations, 36 holes of championship golf, the largest racquet sports complex in the Northeast, watersports, a WellNest spa, and a wide range of amenities and activities.

This is where outdoor adventure and refined relaxation come together to create an award-winning getaway—conveniently located just one hour from Manchester-Boston Regional Airport and two hours from Boston.

Nicklaus Course

Vineyard Course

Over the past decade, the vision and expertise of the LCJ Management team have transformed Owl's Nest into one of New England's most sought-after destinations for both vacationers and homeowners. Today, this four-season resort continues to attract travelers and homebuyers from across the Northeast and Eastern Canada.

Great Mountain Golf at Owl's Nest

Come see for yourself why this award-winning golf resort is quickly becoming a top choice for golf travelers throughout the Northeast and beyond. Owl's Nest features two championship 18-hole golf courses: The Resort Course and The Vineyard Course.

The Resort Course (Nicklaus-Designed) has been named one of Golf Digest's "Top Ten New Hampshire Golf Courses" and remains the only Nicklaus-designed course in the state. A Jack Nicklaus golf experience typically commands a significant premium, and green fees under $100 are rare. Recently, Jack's course at Owl's Nest was recognized as one of the "Top Ten Best Value Nicklaus Golf Courses" in the world, ranking #6 by NBC's Sports Golf Pass.

This magnificent layout offers dramatic elevation changes, exceptional hole designs, and continuous mountain scenery. The real challenge for golfers is staying focused on their game with spectacular views in every direction.

Owl's Nest Vineyard Course has already earned recognition from numerous media outlets as the "Best New Course" in the state. This 18-hole championship layout in Ashland, New Hampshire recently underwent a $7 million comprehensive renovation.

Originally designed in 1976 by Geoffrey Cornish and Bill Robinson, the course was reimagined by Robert McNeil of The Northeast Golf Company. The final four holes are designed to evoke the feel of traditional links-style courses found in Ireland and Scotland.

Along the third hole, more than 6,400 grapevines have been planted across 10 acres of the property. These vines will eventually be harvested to produce select wines for Owl's Nest, featured across the resort's restaurant venues.

With group rates, exceptional service, and value-added "Stay & Play" packages, Owl's Nest Resort offers some of the best golf rates in the region, paired with accommodations and amenities that rival any golf destination in the East.

At the Vineyard Course, four newly renovated stay-and-play condos are located adjacent to the first tee. Each unit sleeps up to six or seven guests and features full kitchens along with modern, comfortable amenities.

The recently renovated Vineyard Clubhouse is also home to the Pemi Burger Bar, serving handcrafted burgers and local craft beers in a relaxed, welcoming setting.

The Largest Racquet Sports Facility in the Northeast

Owl's Nest Resort's racquet sports complex is recognized as the largest racquet sports facility in the Northeast. The complex features a total of 25 courts, including the rare "court trifecta" of tennis, pickleball, and platform tennis all in one destination.

Completed in 2022, the world-class racquet center includes 13 outdoor pickleball courts, two lighted championship arena courts, eight European red clay tennis courts sourced from Vermont quarries, and four heated platform tennis courts designed for year-round play. The red clay surfaces replicate traditional European terra battue, offering a softer playing experience that is easier on the body and encourages longer rallies.

The complex is anchored by the SportsNest, which houses the pro shop—a fully stocked retail space offering racquet rentals and professional gear. A dedicated professional staff provides instruction, private lessons, clinics, and camps for all skill levels.

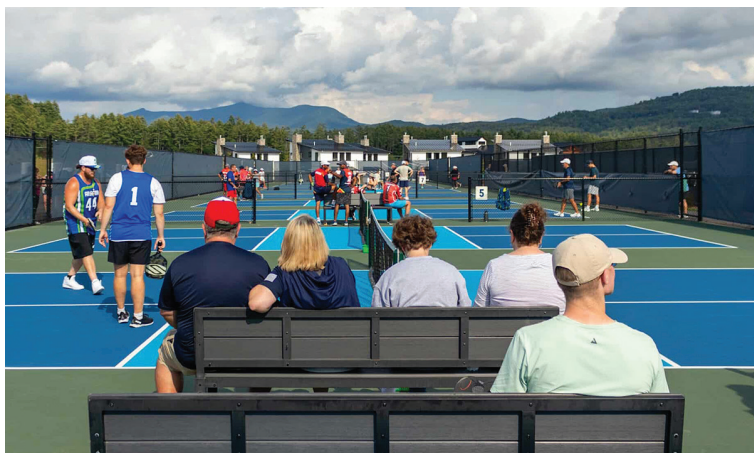

Owl's Nest also hosts leagues, mixers, and tournaments. The complex has been ranked No. 2 in the world by Tennis Resorts Online.
